A Mathematician Reads The Newspaper: John Allen Paulos ... Paulos begins by letting us know that he has read the newspaper almost daily since the late 1940s. Somewhere along the way he picked up a Ph.D. in mathematics, and began reading with the critical eye of a mathematician. He turns his quirky observations into stories, and he is an engaging storyteller.

A Mathematician Reads the Newspaper: John Allen Paulos ...

One final thought: "A Mathematician Reads the Newspaper" was published in 1996, so its examples - drawn from contemporary newspapers - are necessarily dated. Sometimes this introduces a fascinating extra dimension, as when the author muses on the extraordinary idea of creating a social graph with a billion people on it.
