A light-emitting diode (LED) is a semiconductor light source that emits light when current flows through it. Electrons in the semiconductor recombine with electron holes, releasing energy in the form of photons. The color of the light (corresponding to the energy of the photons) is determined by the energy required for electrons to cross the band gap of the semiconductor.

Hi Chis, I had a similar thing happen, the screen didn't go blank but it wouldn't connect. I had to reset my password on my web account and the GPS. Havnt had the same issue since, the only time I have an issue with a blank screen is when I'm in off road mode and not in a service area, the map isnt stable.

On the point of gap I'm going to rebel a bit for the initial start-up. I'm going to gap down to 0.35 to 0.45. Provided I don't find any RFI then I'll increase the gap and make sure I don't have any problems. But the primary goal has to be the prevention of RFI. At that point, if I do anything that creates RFI then its an easy matter to back up.
