How to Change Paper Rolls Canon 750 755 760 765 780 785

If a Canon large format printer doesn't load media rolls correctly and spits them out, it's often because the user has accidentally selected the 'manual' paper feed method, otherwise known as the 'cut sheet' feed method. The printer will then feed the paper in and out in attempt to look for the trailing edge of the sheet of paper.

I loaded the printer with the same film when we bought it and I remember it taking a while to accept it the first time. Ive tried at least 15 times and changed the paper option several times including CAD Trace paper, Hi Resilution, Gloss Paper, Cad Matt Paper among others. I have also changed the paper askew settings to loose with no success.
