I just recently wrote a glowing review of the previous volume of this series, where Daredevil headed west to San Francisco. I was pretty excited for this volume (as I tend to be when it comes to Mark Waid's Daredevil). Unfortunately it stumbled out of the gate before finishing with a much stronger second half.

Mark Waid brings a new take on Daredevil, and its one I'm surprised no one ever thought of until now. Marcos Martin and Paulo Rivera are the two artist for this first story arc and they also contribute to the quality of the title. They both bring a nuance and almost reinvent the way to draw Daredevil comics.

Mark Waid takes Daredevil to new territories, pairing him up against unusual adversaries like Spot, mega-criminal organizations AIM and Hydra, and two particular Marvel villains that I won't mention to avoid spoilers. I really can't praise Waid's efforts enough: he reminds us once more why he's such an essential contemporary comic-book author.
