3 Ways to Behave Around Those You Don't Like - wikiHow

Don't treat people like dirt...and then expect them to want to join your church. If you're going to drive around in your cool truck giving the middle finger to everyone that doesn't drive fast enough for you...then don't sport a "NOTW" (Not of this world) sticker on your back window.

Live Your Life for You, Not to Please Expectations ...

In some cases, you have to be around someone you don't like. That's life. But if you can, take steps to reduce the amount of time that you have to be around that person. If the person is a relative, give yourself permission to take a break. There's no law that says you have to attend every single family function.

If You're Going to Be A Christian...Then Act Like It!

For example, Caciaola advises you to tell that person, "When you cut me off in meetings, I feel like you don't value my contributions." Then, take a moment and wait for their response. You may find that the other person didn't realize you weren't finished speaking, or your colleague was so excited about your idea that she enthusiastically jumped into the conversation.

How to Help Christians Who Don't Act Like Christians

To live like everyone else seems like the easy way out if you ask me. "Go with the flow, stick with the norm, don't rock the boat." I think if most people stopped to reflect on your points they'd realize they're not happy living like everyone else, yet a lot of people lack the courage to stray from trends and create their own reality.

Don't Behave Like You Live in a Cave – Elizabeth Verdick

The book Don't Behave Like You Live In A Cave is actually a good helpful book about how to behave usually and how to follow rules. I am glad I chose this book to read because it can help me with future problems that I come across and I can know what to do if things get out of hand.

The pseudo-affluent: If you look rich, you probably aren't

God has a better view of things than you do. You need to spend time asking the Spirit how to proceed. God can accomplish much more than you can, so don't be timid about asking Him how to respond to your friends. God knows the thoughts and intentions of the heart (Hebrews 4:12-13). Let the Spirit and His Word be your ever-present companions.

However, if you're going to throw out a line like that, you should probably ask yourself when was the last time you told your spouse something real and honest so that he or she could understand you. All of which makes makes me think that we have things all wrong; we need to get divorced first and then get married -- as long as we stay honest, committed and keep the mindset of a divorcee.
