European Condominium Law The Common The International and European legal frameworks are presented, as is the approach of US-American law. It is argued that efforts to strengthen private enforcement of antitrust law should benefit from the rich European experience in unfair competition law. The divergence between the two fields of law is not so huge that a completely different treatment is justified. Thus, a specifically European way of competition law enforcement could be developed.

For over 40 years, the law firm of Winzenburg, Leff, Purvis & Payne, LLP, has represented homeowners associations, townhome owners associations and condominium owner associations throughout the State of Colorado. Because the lawyers in our firm concentrate on community association law, we have addressed most issues confronting common interest communities in Colorado.

Real Property Law and Procedure in the European Union

Under the act, if the condominium is damaged to the extent of two-thirds of its replacement cost, and three-fourths of the unit owners and the holders of mortgage liens affecting at least three-quarters of the units vote not to proceed with repair or restoration, the property remaining is deemed to be owned in common by the unit owners, and each unit owner owns that percentage of the undivided interest in common as he previously owned in the common elements.
