“ Was ” or “ Were ” in the “ If ” Clause/Conditional. In both sentences above, the “ if ” clause contains a form of the past tense of the verb. There is one exception to this rule, however. If the verb in the if clause is “ to be, ” use “ were, ” even if the subject of the clause is a third person singular subject (i.e., he, she, it). See the examples below for an illustration of this exception:
