A supermarket is a self-service shop offering a wide variety of food, beverages and household products, organized into sections. It is larger and has a wider selection than earlier grocery stores, but is smaller and more limited in the range of merchandise than a hypermarket or big-box market.. In everyday U.S. usage, however, "grocery store" is a synonym for supermarket, and is not used to

When it comes to marketing a service it can at times be more challenging than marketing a product. You are not selling something that is tangible; you are in fact selling the invisible. You can't see, touch or feel a product, so for the prospect no matter whether it be a business or consumer purchasing a service can be seen as buying a risk.
