Mom's Cancer

An honest, unflinching, and sometimes humorous look at the practical and emotional effect that serious illness can have on patients and their families, Mom's Cancer is a story of hope—uniquely told in words and illustrations. Brian Fies is a freelance journalist whose mother was diagnosed with lung cancer.

Mom's Cancer

For my family, cancer was the bump in the road that we drove right over, laughing and singing all along, and then forgot about a couple miles further. And while I'm sure the road was more than a little bumpier for my mom, she never faltered in keeping on down the road. One thing did come out of my mom's time with cancer.
