I did pretty well in the Physics I course here because I used this study guide called The Portable TA: A Physics Problem Solving Guide (Volume I is for Physics I...Volume II is for Physics II). It's written by an author named Andrew Elby, he used to be a graduate student at UC Berkeley and the his problem solving guide is absolutely fantastic because he gives you great practice problems and then works them out for you, step-by-step (and doesn't leave anything out).
