"Studies in Tectonic Culture" is a rethinking of the entire modern architectural tradition. The notion of tectonics as employed by Frampton - the focus on architecture as a constructional craft - constitutes a direct challenge to current mainstream thinking on the artistic limits of postmodernism, and suggests a alternative.

The point is that tectonic culture is threatened by the forces of universal commodification and is in danger of being swept away. The delicate, humane balance between the ontological and representational aspects of construction, which has produced so many great buildings from the Altes Museum to the Sydney Opera House, is becoming an irrelevance in a world of spectacle and mere simulation.
