I have a Tek 2430 (not the 2430A) in good shape. Love the scope, but I'm lacking the operator's manual to clear up a few of the finer details about it. Tek's website has the service manual and what they claim to be the "user manual" for download.

Don't know if there is a big difference, but the User's manual for the 2430A is twice as big as the one for the 2430. I took a wild chance and went to tek.com. I had previously registered to look up my scope. Searched on 2430 and got manuals for both. The plain 2430 is P/N 070-5497-00 and is 755KB. I saved it, just in case you can't get in.

The Tektronix 2445A. I bought a Tektronix 2445A oscilloscope from eBay. It was a very good deal for a 4-channel 150 MHz oscilloscope. Maybe too good a deal, or so it seemed for a while.... The seller used the usual eBay boilerplate disclaimer for electronic gear — they had turned it on, no smoke came out, it lit up, but they "were unable to test further".
