Somebody That I Used To Know (feat. Kimbra) Now and then I think of when we were together Like when you said you felt so happy you could die Told myself that you were right for me But felt so lonely in your company But that was love and it's an ache I still remember. You can get addicted to a certain kind of sadness Like resignation to the end, always the end So when we found that we could not ...

So long to the place that I used to go. I'm not an R.I.P. I'm not another sick, sad tragedy. So long to the kid that I used to know. So long to the place that I used to go. I'm not an R.I.P. I'm not another sick, sad tragedy. When the roof comes down and I can't get out. I'll be in this house, so shut your mouth.

Someone I Used To Know is fairly optimistic as we mostly see success stories. It's a rare author who can take this topic and make it enjoyable. Carolyn Jess-Cooke's Guardian Angel's Journal was a darker version of this story; I absolutely love that story too but Journal made me cry buckets. Toon writing these issues so gently is impressive.
