It's my impression that the course of negotiations with ATU 1505 is largely being dictated by 510 Main Street, not 421 Osborne Street. I don't expect Winnipeg Transit management itself has much freedom of action. I do kind of agree with the general impression that Winnipeg Transit is not what it should be, and not what it used to be.

Winnipeg Transit says traffic issues are to blame. It says Route 16 is a three-hour route, crossing through two big construction zones: at Fermor Avenue near the mint and on Graham Avenue downtown. Winnipeg Transit spokesperson Alissa Clark said while "it's not ideal," the authority won't add more buses to Route 16, because of a lack of resources.
