This outburst from Abigail comes at the end of Act I, after the slave-girl Tituba has confessed to witchcraft. Abigail spent the first act of the play about the possibility of being disgraced for having cast charms with her friends in the forest.

A fire, a fire is burning! I hear the boot of Lucifer, I see his filthy face! And it is my face, and yours, Danforth! For them that quail to bribe their ignorance, as I have quailed, and as you quail now when you know in all your black hearts that this be fraud – God damns our kind especially you! Burn, we will burn together!
